Splendid New Building of This Institution Opening With the Session's Work.

A WELL ARRANGED PLANT

The Opening.

The Opening.

On the morning of the 25th of September a large assemblage of pupils and friends met in the great assembly room, and the opening exercises commenced with prayer by the kev. C. O. Pruden, followed by a beautiful and encouraging address by Rev. Mr. Gaston, the Presbyterian minister, of this place, who was followed by Mr. J. H. Hargrave, Mayor of the town, whose remarks were apt and to the point. This part of the program was closed by some remarks by the Rev. Chiswell Dabney, Mrs. Wills, the president of the school, was on hand with het large corps of excellent teachers, and immediately took charge and commenced the work she has so well and efficiently conducted in the past.

The school is about full, and its prospects are flattering for the future, as its record has been honorable and useful in the past. It is to be hoped that the many friends who have so liberally and kindly helped to build up this most excellent institution will continue to give it support it is free from all embarrassment.

MONUMENT TO MR. DUKE.

Contract for One to Be Erected at Trinity—College News.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

TRINITY COLLEGE, DURHAM N. C. September 28.—The contract for foundation and bese of the monument of Mr. Washington Duke has been awarded to N. Underwood, of Durham, and work has started. This monument is to be placed in the middle of the present driveway leading from the front gate to the Duke Building, and midway between the gate and building. A survey and plans have been made for changing the grounds in front of the Duke Building, so that the monument will be in the centre of a wide grass plot extending from the Anne Roney fountain to the front entrance to the grounds. The driveway and walks will be changed, and the improvements will add much to the beauty of the park. This monument is the gift of triends, a large number having contributed to the fund. It is to be a heroic size, sitting posture. It is the work of Valentine, of Richmond, the artist who made the collning statue of Robert E. Lee, and atter famous pieces of art, and one of the most noted sculptors this country has produced.

Mr. R. V. Taylor, assistant college secretary of the Southern States, delivered an address to the Young Men's Christian Association in the Association Hell Wednesday evening. Largest Attendance of Boarding Pupils in the School's History.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
ABINGDON. VA., September 29.—
Martha Washington College opened here on the 12th with 125 boarding pupils, the largest number in attendance in the history of the college. There is also a good day patronage, and the prospects were never brighter. The college prides itself on its conservatory of music. The director, F. J. Zeisberg, is now in Cincinnati for the purpose of securing the services of a professor who will assist him in this department. He has also several competent and experienced ladies assisting.

Considerable improvements, have been made this year. A new building has just been completed, which gives a modern culinary department, and also studios for the director of music and directors of art and expression.

Patrick Lodge Holds Imposing Ceremonies When Corner-Stone Is Laid.

GREAT

CROWD PRESENT

MARTINSVILLE, VA., September 29. -The Patrick Lodge, located at Shuff, Patrick county, Va., laid the cornerstone of an Odd-Fellows' Hall on Fristone of an Odd-Fellows' Hall on Friday, September 27th. The weather was bright and beautiful. The people came from all parts of the county, and it was estimated that over two thousand persons were present. The exercises commenced at 12 o'clock by the procession of the Odd-Fellows and confederate soldiers and their sons. On returning to the hall the corner-stone was laid by Deputy Grand Master Sheppard, past grand master of Greble Lodge, No. 127, Hampton, Va., assisted by Dr. E. A. Jenkins and J. L. Stultz, Jr., of Mecca Lodge, No. 242, Martinsville, Va., and members of Mecca and Patrick Lodges. At the close of the ceremonies, the Odd-Fellows and popie proceeded to the grove, where a stand was erected for the speakers and seats for the people. Brother J. M. Hooker, attorney for the Commonwealth of Patrick county, Va., opened the exercises by an appropriate address, giving the people a cordial welcome. He introduced Dr. Jenkins, of Mecca Lodge, No. 242, who delivered a fine discourse on Odd-Fellowship, its origin, history, work and success. A recess was then taken for dinner.
